All about girls

We recently bumped into designer Sanjana Jon and the lass excitedly told us about how she will be hanging out with the reigning Miss Universe Jimena "Ximena" Navarrete Rosete over the next few days.

Jon is bringing down the beauty queen for a host of activities to raise awareness for her 'Celebrate the Girl Child' initiative. "I've been bringing the reigning Miss Universe to India for the last five years to help promote this cause, and hopefully I'll keep bringing them for many years to come," she said.

She was also quite excited about actor Salman Khan pitching in for the cause. "Salman bhai has made such a difference with his own charity. So, him and Jimena together on the same stage will surely help raise a lot of support for our charity. When asked what about India she'll show to Jimena, "I think she loves Indian food. So, we'll surely go to a lot of Indian restaurants!"

GIMME GOAAH!

Heady cocktails, delicious food, and a slice of the Goan way of life ensured everyone had a gala time at this party. Rachna and Sameer Kapoor hosted this bash at their Goan restaurant Souza Lobo in the Capital's shopping mecca GK-II. And Delhi's party crowd happily danced till the wee, 'high' on life.

Seen enjoying the sumptuous fare were designers Raghavendra Rathore who looked dapper in his staple bandhgala, Anjalee and Arjun Kapoor, choreographer Harmeet Bajaj, restaurateur Shiv Karan Singh who seemed to really enjoy the canapes doing the rounds, industrialist Arjun Sharma, and doctor Anupam Sibal who showed even doctors can party, amongst others. Also, the talking point of the night was Rachna's sizzling dress!
